

The Company is a listed Investment Company and is not subject to redemptions/subscriptions. However if the Company were to be wound up under severely adverse market conditions, the reported NAV may significantly overstate the realisable value of the assets in the portfolio and the amounts distributed per share may be less than the reported NAV. The liquidity profile of the portfolio may affect the degree of discount that would be applied. There is no guarantee that an asset's value as reported in the accounts will be achieved in an open market sale. The Company will be required to repay any borrowings before any distribution to shareholders.

What happens if the Company is unable to pay out?

As a shareholder in the Company, you would not be able to make a claim to the Financial Services Compensation Scheme about the Company in the event that the Company is unable to pay dividends to you or if it were unable to pay any amounts due to you on the winding up of the Company.

What are the costs?

This disclosure has been prepared with reference to the Financial Conduct Authority's Statement on forbearance in relation to investment trust disclosure requirements dated 19 September 2024. It does not seek to comply with the requirements of the PRIIPS Regulation in this regard. The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs. The figures are estimates and may change in the future. We have not included operating costs, which are paid by the Company, on the basis that the return that you may receive will depend on the Company's share price performance and there is no direct link between the Company's share price and the costs that it pays. The operating costs incurred by the Company (together with other market factors) can affect the share price of the Company.
